

Municipal Salaries Revised At Special Session Of Council

Ten Employees Of Town Receive Increases When Councillors Study Entire Wage Roll

Newmarket town council made a general revision of municipal employee wages at a special meeting on Monday evening. Councillor Wm. Dixon was absent because of illness.

The next regular meeting will be next Monday evening.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales asked the councillors, after some discussion, if they were all in favor of a revision of the wages paid.

"Yes, a general revision," said Councillor J. L. Spillette. Other councillors assented.

The councillors went over the wages of all employees, permanent and temporary, about 17 in all, and moved the wages of ten employees upward. Several other employees had had wage changes recently, it was stated. Increases made were: Datus Crowder, $6, to $30 a week; Angus Morrison, $5, to $30 a week; Arthur Pegg, $2, to $16; Garnet Newson, 40 cents an hour, increased to 45 cents an hour; Vincent Hodgins, 45 cents an hour, increased to 50 cents; John Stickland, $20 a week to $22; Irene Parks, $18 a week to $21; Constable Kenneth Mount, $4, to $29 a week; Chief Constable James Sloss, $5, to $32 a week (car allowance $9 a week additional); N. L. Mathews, K. C., $200, to $1,500, as clerk, treasurer and solicitor (first increase in 12 years).

Most employees receive $3.10 cost of living bonus in addition.

Chief Sloss Reports Less Offences Against Peace

Chief Constable Jas Sloss reports that there have been no motor-car fatalities since September, 1938. There has been a reduction of 19 percent in accidents in Newmarket during 1942 as compared with 1941.

As a result of these accidents, eight persons were injured, one seriously. There was a reduction in speeding convictions in 1942 of 25 percent as compared with 1941.

Complaints in regard to breaches of the Liquor Control act were 40 in 1942 as compared with 141 in 1941.

There were 16 motor vehicles stolen in 1941 and four in 1942. All were recovered.

Seven bicycles were stolen in 1941 and 12 in 1942. One is not yet recovered.

As a result of petty thefts $360 was stolen in 1942, and $270 was recovered.

There were 12 break-ins during 1942, with four as yet unsolved. Twelve persons were convicted. In 1942 18 juveniles were convicted as compared with ten in 1941.

There was a decrease of 50 percent in the number of transients coming to the station for a night's lodging. In 1942 there were 43 prisoners in the Newmarket cells as compared with 83 in 1941.

Roadway and drunkenness on the street is almost non-existent, Chief Sloss reports.

OPPOSITION ORGANIZED TO GRANT TO V. O. N.

"A strong petition" is being circulated among property-owners at the Office Specialty Co. opposing the appointment of a V.O.N. nurse, Councillor A. V. Higginson told the town council on Monday evening.

The reasons given, he said, varied from the argument that as rents were frozen tenants did not share in any increase in taxation to the statement that there was a shortage of nurses and Ottawa was asking that no new demands be made on nurses.

"People will stand in their own light," commented Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "I remember when people signed a petition against a grant to a hospital in this town on the ground that it was not possible to make a success of a hospital so close to Toronto."

The Era and Express may be purchased in Newmarket at Bell's, Best's, Bolton's, Campbell's and Spillette's.

Lions Club Sale Ends Tonight—Going, Going

The Lions Club auction sale got under way last night at the town hall, with Auctioneer J. F. Kavanagh in charge. Mr. Kavanagh came to the rescue when Auctioneer Smith was unable to go on the stand because of illness.

The crowd had a grand time and the war work projects of the Lions club received a real boost. Tonight is the final night. Some of the best articles remain to be sold.

The folks of the town have turned in numerous good pieces of furniture, dishes, books, jewelry, tools, etc. About half of each section was sold last night and more articles are being brought in today, so the Lions are looking forward to another good night. Proceeds of last night's sale will keep one bomb victim kiddie for a year. This is arranged through the Lions' British Child War Victims' Fund, which is administered by the Waifs and Strays Society of London, England.

A quantity of warm clothing suitable for the Russian relief is not being sold, but will be turned over at once to the Aid to Russia headquarters. Two fine boxes of clothing and quilts were sent in by the good folks of Sharon, for which the Lions said "Thank you, on behalf of our noble allies in Russia."

MUSICIANS DELIGHT AUDIENCE AT TRINITY

Taking the place of the usual anniversary supper and entertainment, a delightful concert was held at Trinity United church on Monday evening as part of the 19th anniversary celebrations. In spite of severely cold weather quite a good crowd was in attendance.

Rev. Henry Cotton acted as chairman for the interesting and varied musical program, which was of a high order throughout. The concert opened with a lovely piano solo by Mrs. Marjorie Armour, A.T.C.M., followed by delightful vocal numbers by Mrs. Ruth Harris, L.R.A.M., "Silent Noon" and "Sweet Chance That Led My Steps Abroad." Mrs. Harris was accompanied by Lily Harris.

The Newmarket military camp orchestra, conducted by Cornetist Cpl. J. Turner, played several much appreciated selections. Miss Dorothy Cotton's two solos, "Sweethearts," and "The Changing," were sung very sweetly. Isha Goodman, L.T.C.M., gave several splendid piano selections, and H. A. Jackson, accompanied by Mrs. Armour at the piano, gave a pleasing violin solo.

Two solos, "Goin' Home" and "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Mrs. Donald McLean, A.T.C.M., delighted her hearers. Miss Jean Davis, who has appeared before Newmarket audiences on a number of occasions, sang beautifully, "At Parting" and "Among the Living."

Terry Doane of Queensville provided several fine baritone solos, including the well-known favorite, "The Open Road." Miss Lois Geer sang two lovely numbers, "Linden Lea" and "Land of Hope and Glory."

"Surprise numbers" were provided by a quartet of dark minstrels. Among their tuneful selections were "This Is the Army" and "Tiger Rag."

The national anthem brought a fine musical evening to a close. Refreshments were served to the guest artists by the Women's Association of the church.

Says Nazis Are People Who Gave Up Church

"Not to arouse hate," but to show what happens to people who turn away from God, something of Nazi callousness and brutality was told by Rev. J. C. Cochran, D.D., at Trinity United church on Sunday morning.

Dr. Cochran, a former pastor, preached the anniversary sermon. Rev. Henry Cotton, the pastor, and Rev. R. R. McMath, Armistage, another former pastor, took part in the services.

"Some of my warmest friends are of German parentage, but that is what happens to a people who forget God," Dr. Cochran said. "Out of Germany has come some of our best music, some of our finest thought, some of our best science."

"I think of some of the German settlers who came to this country. You couldn't want finer people. You couldn't want warmer neighbors. You couldn't find more religious people."

"What has happened to Germany today is what would happen to the British empire if we forgot God. I wish I could tell that to all non-church-going people."

EIGHT TIMES CALLED, EIGHT TIMES CHOSEN

By BILL HASKETT

Newmarket Redmen have finished their group without a loss. Eight straight times they have gone to the post and returned winners. Now all they have to do is to win the play-offs.

Before the second largest crowd of the season they defeated Angus "Bombers" by a score of 7-3 in Newmarket arena Thursday evening. Nick Bangay and Charlie Nesbitt were the scoring heroes for Newmarket. Each got three goals. Jack Wheeler got the other one.

Two of Bangay's came in the first period, the other in the third. Nesbitt reversed the procedure by getting one in the first and two in the third. Borden Wheeler, a cousin of the local defenceman, got two of the Bombers' goals. Both were in the second period.

Sills, the brilliant hard-hitting rear-guardman on the Angus team, got the third one ten seconds after the third period had started. Sills' goal made the score 4-3, and it looked as though the game might settle down to something really worth looking at instead of the scrambly type of play which had prevailed all evening. But once again the Redmen opened up and scored three goals in rapid succession to give themselves a commanding lead which they never relinquished.

Newmarket's own Referee Bob Peters handled the game, and made a good list of it. Of course he didn't please all the fans nor both the coaches, but he did just as good a job as any outsider would have done. Peters handed out 14 penalties. They were seven for each club.

Sills, Neil and Newmarket's gift to the "Bombers," Stan Evans, managed to get two apiece. This would qualify Stan as one of the bad men of the night. Shaw and Nick Bangay got double doses in the sin-bin for the local club.

Quite a number of the fans attending the game had a reunion with Norman "Ikky" Epworth, a brother of Newmarket Bill Epworth. "Ikky," who is a corporal in the R.C.A.F. at Camp Borden, helped in the handling of the Angus team on Thursday night. Alex. "Red" Mathewson, who was scheduled to appear with the "Bombers," was unable to be on hand because of sickness. Lack of good substitutes helped to hand the "Bombers" their loss. They brought only two along and short-handed like this they were unable to match their speed with the fast-travelling Newmarket team.

Newmarket: goal, Wysinski; defence, Wheeler and Hecan; centre, Nicholl; wings, Stewart and McMaster; subs, R. Bangay, N. Bangay, Nesbitt and Shaw.

Angus: goal, Mantemurro; defence, Sills and Neil; centre, Reid; wings, Wheeler and Long; subs, Brice and Evans.

CHANGE WORLD OR UNDER DOG WILL - RECTOR

"Which way is ahead?" was the topic of Rev. G. H. Johnson, rector of St. Paul's Anglican church, at a Lions club meeting on Monday evening.

Concerning the world's "bewildering disequilibrium" there were only three questions which people could ask, Mr. Johnson said. They were: How can we stay where we are, "which only a maniac would ask," How can we get back to where we were, "which only a fool would ask," or, Which way is ahead?

The present social and economic system, Mr. Johnson said, had "grown up without restraint or discipline from any moral quarters. It simply grew up like a bad boy."

"The defects of that system are fairly obvious to most people," he continued.

While the "iconoclasts of an immature socialism in other countries had scuttled the ship before they had learned how to build a raft," the Christian democracies had gone to the other extreme and "not until pressure was put upon us have we asked: Which way is ahead?"

Mr. Johnson said: "We must have our minds set upon certain ideals, and ideals that we are willing to pay for." He borrowed from the Archbishop of Canterbury three basic ideals: freedom, fellowship, service.

"These are the three principles of a truly Christian social order," Mr. Johnson said.

The individual must have freedom to maintain his own personality, against "syndicated public opinion, gigantic pressure brought to bear on the individual." There was danger of merging the individual's rights and the individual into society, as carried to an extreme by fascism.

Fellowship he regarded as a corrective to individualism. "When we see what rugged individualism did to the world, blasted some of man's highest hopes, then we see how important it is to find a corrective," said Mr. Johnson.

"Perhaps we pastors have failed too often at this point," he said in discussing "service." "We have said that if we saved this individual and that individual, the world would take care of itself. That has been a trend of modern preaching. It is wrong. It won't work."

"We can no more get a Christian social order by getting better men hither and yon than we could get a Newmarket water system by every man going out and digging a well in his backyard."

"The abolition of slavery and the drug traffic have come about not by individual action but by social action."

"If we are in the ditch it is because we are holding someone else down in the ditch. If we do not help him, he may push us down into the ditch. The only way we can prevent a revolution from below is by means of a revolution above."

"Your club is devoted to service. It is an ideal that will go on long after your club. It is a golden chain which has held men of good-will together. It will go on until service leads us to the realization of mankind's highest destiny."

"We must demand that we get ahead and badger the experts to find a way."

The club met at the Soldiers' Citizens club, Millard Ave. President Frank Bowser thanked the ladies for the excellent dinner served.

It was past presidents' night, and W. L. Bosworth took charge. Other past presidents on hand were W. H. Eves, Dr. C. E. VanderVoort and J. S. Law. The club paid tribute to two past presidents, the late K. N. Robertson and the late J. J. McCaffrey.

They were married in Canada. Subsequently they moved to Newmarket and started a business here. Mr. Wolfe stayed long hours and his business grew steadily. He purchased a building on Main St. and was engaged in manufacturing and wholesaling harness.

More recently, ill health and other misfortunes overtook him. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe had many friends in Newmarket.

Mayor Offers To Serve On Hospital Planning Committee

Sir William Mulock, P. W. Pearson, Geo. D. Wark Named To Hospital Honorary Posts For 1943

Six directors were elected to the hospital board at the annual meeting of the York County Hospital Association in the council chamber on Friday evening. President W. H. Eves was the chairman.

Joseph Vale, appointed by the board during the year to take the place of Lieut. K. M. R. Stiver, was elected by motion to complete the remaining year of Mr. Stiver's term.

H. E. Lambert and Robert Martin were elected for two years to complete the term of E. J. Davis, resigned, and H. P. Gilman, deceased.

W. H. Eves, Dr. G. E. Case and W. A. Spear were elected for three-year terms. Dr. Case was elected as a citizen rather than a physician and serves in addition to Dr. G. W. Williams, Aurora, who is representative of the medical men using the hospital.

Other members of the board are: G. L. Manning, James Law, P. J. Tod, Reeve George Leary of Whitechurch township, representing the county, and Councillor A. V. Higginson, representing the town council.

Sir William Mulock, a benefactor of the hospital, was named honorary patron, in a resolution expressing appreciation of the interest he had taken in the hospital, and Geo. D. Wark and P. W. Pearson were named honorary presidents. Mr. Wark is now living in Orillia and Mr. Pearson in Preston.

Mr. Eves expressed thanks to George Vale, who resigned as auditor, for his service in that capacity ever since the hospital has been founded. He paid tribute to the late J. J. McCaffrey, secretary-treasurer since the founding of the hospital, and to the late H. P. Gilman as "faithful members" of the board.

Mr. Eves said that it had been a trying year for the superintendent, Miss M. L. Hill, and that there had been a great scarcity of nurses. The board had given a ten percent increase in nurses' remuneration in the fall, he said, and the hospital had an "excellent staff of nurses."

The board during the past year took up a suggestion made by Dr. J. G. Cock two years ago and established a laboratory at the hospital under Miss B. B. Hamilton. Mr. Eves said. This had proved a source of revenue.

Mr. Eves stated that the army medical board had asked York county hospital to take x-rays of soldiers coming to the Newmarket camp. There were to be 300 to 500 a month, with a guarantee of $2 a plate.

Unfortunately there had been only two lots of men, totalling 500, x-rayed, and, after payment of the radiologist's fees and purchasing the plates, the hospital had made nothing but had practically paid for several hundred dollars worth of new equipment that was purchased for the work.

The board had employed an office assistant, Miss Margaret Kelly, for the superintendent, whose clerical duties were too

Urban Folks Give Green Light To Agriculture

W. M. COCKBURN SAYS FARMERS CAN COUNT ON HARVEST HELP

"Crops will not waste in the fields this year," was the assurance which Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket, gave at Bradford Lions club on Monday evening.

"Weather conditions permitting, all crops will be harvested," Mr. Cockburn said. "Urban residents will not allow the crops to be wasted. Organization is already under way in Toronto to give harvest-help next summer."

"Richmond Hill Agricultural Society at its annual meeting appointed a committee to start work now on building a harvest organization, including country representatives to keep the organization posted on farm help requirements."

Mr. Cockburn suggested that Bradford citizens organize now to be ready to help the farmers and so that farmers will know that they can go ahead with their 1943 sowing without fear of being unable to complete the harvesting.

IT WAS COLD!

"Thirty below," said the Newmarket waterworks thermometer on Monday morning.

Once before this winter the same thermometer went down to 30, according to Superintendent Angus Morrison.

CHIEF IS ILL

Fire Chief W. W. Osborne has been ill for the past two weeks, but is now beginning to get better.

WARDEN IS ILL

Warden Stanley Osborne and Mrs. Osborne, Sharon, have both been ill, and confined to their home.

Mr. Cockburn was speaking as deputy-district governor of Lions clubs, and, in addition to telling of Lions work in the zone, gave a talk on what science is doing for agriculture. Among other points, he told how hybrid corn was much easier to harvest and, in addition, had higher feed value.

ENCOURAGEMENT NEEDED

A considerable number of Newmarket citizens gave a little help to district farmers last summer. A few citizens gave a lot of help. No doubt there will be just as much and more help given to farmers this year. Farmers are being asked to increase their production to supply Britain, who, as Mr. Churchill said recently, has now begun to "eat into" her food reserves.

Farmers are quite ready to do all in their power, but on the farm it is often easier to start things than to finish them. It is one thing to plant a crop and another thing to harvest it. Farmers need to know now that it will be possible for them to harvest what they plant. Will Newmarket and Aurora citizens give that assurance, through Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn, to farmers of northern York county? What organizations will undertake to give that assurance? The board of trade in Aurora? The Lions club or the Civilian Defence Committee in Newmarket? It is the assurance that is needed, and needed now. Let us do our part to strengthen our farmers in their great task.

CALLING ALL DEMOCRATS

It is easy enough to hope about the sort of world that will follow this war. It is more difficult to plan that world. But it is impossible, no matter how one hopes or however many plan, to know what sort of a world will follow. For our own country some people prophesy economic disaster—unemployment and disillusionment—and others predict a time of prosperity and social progress.

Our own fear was that Canada's huge debt at the end of this war might prove a millstone about the country's neck, but we are glad to read in the New York Journal of Commerce that "Canada is gaining in financial strength despite the very large contribution she is making to the war effort of the United Nations." After analyzing Canada's exchange position, the Journal of Commerce states: "It is thus apparent that Canada will emerge from the war in a relatively strong financial position. The dominion will thus be able to play an important part in post-war economic reconstruction and development."

The word "reconstruction" suggests that the war will have left on this country some damage or made clear the need for some rebuilding. There will be difficult times, times of struggle between different interests and different architects, and the great need will be for men of good-will, true democrats who want to find a common plan, a common ground, by which and on which to fulfill the already common Christian ideal of the brotherhood of man.

Recently we have read statements of two men whose words suggest that they are such democrats.

First is Mr. Justice Charles Patrick McTague, the new chairman of the national war labor board. His appreciation of the problems and viewpoint of both labor and management has given him success in settling labor disputes.

He is "completely in favor" of labor unions and collective bargaining, but he doesn't believe in war-time strikes. He is prepared to "admit that there may be injustices from the point of view of return for particular work, and these injustices have got to be straightened out."

Sometimes, he says, the workman gets leadership that is "not too constructive," but apparently he sees the remedy for labor problems in education, not in compulsory legislation.

The other man is B. W. Keightley, of Canadian Industries Ltd., speaking as chairman of a group of Canadian advertising men who have been making a study of post-war trends. Mr. Keightley says: "Many of these proposals are directed in such a way, and couched in such terms, as to affect the whole state of society under which business as we know it is conducted. Whatever we may think of some of these proposals, we must now recognize that they have one thing in common, and that that thing is recognizable in the proposals coming from any country in which public opinion still remains free to express itself. The common denominator is a desire for a 'better world': meaning, roughly, a world in which there shall be a more general distribution of the good things of life. Any over-all consideration of post-war planning should bear this good motive in mind—while some of the plans may be erroneous in reasoning, or impracticable of realization, the fact that the impulse is towards improvement should encourage us to hope that the progress will be evolutionary and forwards for the community as a whole."

ON THE HORIZON

Next task ahead is the Red Cross campaign for funds. Newmarket, with two boys in German prison camps, and more boys than ever overseas, will have a new conviction about what the Red Cross is doing.

After the Red Cross campaign presumably there will be another war loan. It requires no patriotism to invest money in Victory bonds, for they represent Canada's best investment.

A NEW PARTISANSHIP

In recent years it seemed that newspapers, both daily and weekly, were getting away from political partisanship. As a result of amalgamations many of them found it necessary to forget their traditional opinions and look at public affairs more objectively. Is it possible that a new, "enlightened" partisanship is now to take the place of the old partisanship and the new independence?

It seems to us that there is such a tendency. We note a rather widespread tendency to give broad-minded approval and condemnation to both the Liberal and Conservative parties but to condemn the C.C.F. wholesale. The press will be wiser to try to give the C.C.F. the same fair treatment that it tries to give the older parties and to judge each C.C.F. proposal on its merits. By being fair to the third party, the press can exert an influence on it and serve the public interest. The press can afford to spend some time and space trying to save from error a party to which 20 percent or more of the electorate is promising support.

On the other hand, should the press decide to condemn everything C.C.F. as wrong and to deprive the third party of all credit when the older parties take up reforms which it has advocated, Canadian newspapers may find themselves some day in the unhappy position that U. S. newspapers have been in during the New Deal years. Seventy-five percent of U. S. newspapers have told their readers to vote against the Roosevelt regime but the public knew it to be poor advice and hasn't taken it.

TAKING REFUGE IN SCRIPTURE

The psalmist says, "He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariot in the fire," but U. S. Secretary Knox says that after the war his country must maintain large sea and air forces and a system of bases around the world and provide much of the military power needed to enforce peace against world-wide aggression.

Aside from the problem of how the United States, which seeks "no aggrandisement, territorial or other" (Atlantic Charter), is to establish bases around the world, the fact remains that domination of the world by the United States, and the United States is certainly among the most peaceful and peace-loving nations, cannot be considered a guarantee of world peace.

Nor would a world dotted with military and naval bases variously belonging to the United States, Britain, Russia and China be considered a guarantee of permanent peace. The victorious Allies of 1918 are not all on the same side in this war.

Unless they wish to invite some new and more terrible war, communists against capitalists, or colored races against white races, the United Nations must, in our opinion, themselves submit to the disarmament that they impose on others, and enforce the peace through a common international police force. There is a lot of wisdom in the Bible—He maketh wars to cease by breaking the bow, cutting the spear in sunder and burning the chariot.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

A WESTERN EDITORIAL

(Estevan, Sask., Mercury)

Bruce Hutchinson, the noted Canadian journalist and author, has had an interesting exchange of opinions with M. J. Coldwell, the leader of the C.C.F., which Hutchinson describes as follows:

"A disturbance may be noted on the true Left. Mr. Coldwell obviously is alarmed. He writes to say that I have misrepresented him in considering him a real socialist; that he only proposed to socialize great monopolies and industries which the state cannot afford to leave in private hands, and that he does not propose that the state shall run everything."

"With this mere left-wing liberalism millions of Canadians and this writer will not quarrel. But it is not socialism, it is not the doctrine which many of Mr. Coldwell's local leaders are preaching throughout the country, and it probably represents only the first stage in the process which the C.C.F. would attempt if it were swept into office tomorrow. Having embarked upon half-hearted socialism, the C.C.F. would soon dry up and utterly private initiative so much that it would inevitably shrink, forcing the state further and further into the control of everything."

The Liberals will be committed to tariff reform in the post-war era, because freer trade is part of what we are fighting for. The Conservatives will be committed to it also, if John Bracken can hold the eastern home guard behind him as he moulds a Progressive-Conservative party to his own opinions. And both Liberals and Conservatives can be counted upon to vie with one another in bringing forth sane and sound social reform programs to guarantee security for every man and his loved ones.

What advantage, then, can lie in the blandishments of the C.C.F. which, striving mightily to gain a toehold on public opinion while it is quite naturally disgruntled at war-time regulations and administration, offers to plunge the country into a chaos of post-war political and social experiments which probably would be the end of everybody, including Mr. Coldwell?

Let us have steady and experienced hands at the controls as we go forward during the war years. We really aren't doing so badly with our share of the fighting, despite the perfectly human impulse to kick about this and grouch about that.

Without the sacred rights of private initiative our victory would be a hollow one, emptied of one of the richest of democratic privileges. Hutchinson's warning is a timely one.

R. B. Hanson, M.P., former Conservative house leader, termed the proposal a "colossal bribe."

U. S. troops suffered a minor reverse in a clash with the Axis in Africa. Berlin said that German troops had taken over 700 American prisoners.

PEACE

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Peace is such an intangible thing, when everything is going well with us, when no war clouds tower—at least none near enough to make us realize that war exists—peace is solid, concrete and we feel it MUST last, for why should anyone want anything better than to go along the way of least resistance.

But when war comes, we think with a certain amount of irritation and bewilderment, that we didn't understand peace; we came to understand that we mustn't just accept it carelessly as our right, we must guard it, work for it, and cherish it as something more precious than gold.

If we had a precious jewel or a sum of money to guard, or if we were in charge of a very sick person, or anything, in fact, of value to us or others—something WORTH guarding—we would be alert; we would be on the lookout for any suspicious circumstance, or in the case of valuables other than human, of suspicious characters. I know there were some far-sighted people, people with vision, who valued peace for what it really is—a priceless possession—but we, the people, took it as we took our bread and butter or the air we breathed, as something we didn't study it, what it springs from, what nourishes it, and how to keep it from languishing, and finally going into a state of coma, from which it will not awaken until it breathes again the air of freedom, brotherhood and love.

Dorothy Thompson in a recent article said that in her opinion the loss of peace was due largely to narrow nationalism and misunderstanding between nations, and she made a unique suggestion for post-war understanding between peoples. She suggested that there be a burning—a grand holocaust of all the history books now existent. These books, she said, had fostered hatred, misunderstanding and narrowness of view. "Why not," she went on, "have American histories written by broadminded and unprejudiced Britains and vice-versa, and so on among other nations."

Many facts would come to light, the lack of knowledge of which had led to the conviction that ALL right was on one side, the side of the writer—and all wrong on the other. Dorothy Thompson's theory seemed to hold a good deal of truth, for prejudices, taught to children, cherished through the years, and perhaps, magnified by retrospection and rampant patriotism, would not lend themselves to sympathetic understanding among nations. Then the golden chain, which links Christians in every land, will have to grow stronger; have to be more set with the jewels of mutual consideration and mutual effort after the ideals common to all who profess Christ.

And what is true of international peace, is only too true of national peace. Understanding between labor and capital—a real trying after a common ground from which BOTH can work for the common good, where those who work with their hands can feel that their rights are respected, that they HAVE rights, and capital can feel that work is given gladly because the worker feels secure, for there is no curse like insecurity. Where all creeds work for a common cause—the betterment of the race, not the denomination, and where government is "of the people, by the people and for the people."

If we work to win the peace as we've worked to win the war, we will have peace.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

By GOLDEN GLOW

Today is St. Valentine's day—and if there is anything in the myth about Old Bruin coming out of his winter quarters to size up the situation as to the length of the winter—you know the saying, if he sees his shadow then he goes back for another cat-nap for six more weeks. If there is anything in it, prepare for the worst, for he certainly saw his shadow at noon!

You would almost think the prediction of six more weeks of winter had already begun, for all day long the thermometer has gone steadily down. It was pretty chilly as we went to church, but coming home the wind was very cutting and my ears were cold and also my hands inside my lined winter gloves. But I was really rather surprised to find it eight below zero, as our home is fairly sheltered. I have not bothered to look since, but I can still hear the wind blowing as hard as ever!

Some time ago they said that there had been no winter equal to this for prolonged cold and the quantity of snow for over 50 years. I wonder what records are broken by now, for certainly these last few weeks have been terrific! We must not forget last Wednesday when the weatherman threw in a day's heavy rain for a change and an old-fashioned thunder-storm for good measure. Someone was talking to me and said a thunder-storm in winter meant cold weather, so maybe that accounts for this cold dip!

Well, now we have the weather disposed of, we can think of a few other things. The post office has been a busy place these last few days, and the shops where Valentines are sold. Every time I've been in the post office lately, after five o'clock, there were soldiers there addressing envelopes which contained them were over-flowing the waste-basket or left lying on the two long desks. So no doubt somebody was going to get a pleasant reminder that they are not forgotten. I still love Valentines. I do not mean the grand box of candy, the bottle of perfume and the flowers from the man of the house. That goes without saying! I mean those Valentine cards with nicely worded sentiment, telling you that you are not forgotten by your friends.

I think I shall concentrate on three among those I received, all different but all so delightful. First one from Detroit. It has a heart in each corner attached by twisted ribbon and a bow on each heart. In the centre is a heart inside a larger decorated heart, all spangles. The inner heart, pale blue with a bouquet of roses, lifts up by a ribbon rosette and underneath it says: "A heart full of good wishes." Over the top is "Though we're apart on Valentine's day," and then underneath, "I'm thinking of you." Then inside are more hearts attached to a twisted ribbon and this verse: "I'm sending you this Valentine To tell you how very much I think of you all through the year."

Though we're often out of touch—I think of you, and send you Best wishes from my heart. Because, you see, you're near to me

Although we're far apart! The second one has a border of gay flowers all round the edge and a large heart, the top of which is cellophane, showing more flowers underneath. On the lower part, also heart-shaped, is a lovely home with trees and flower-beds and a path to the front door bordered with flowers and it says, "A Valentine for mother." The verse on this one, in a wreath of flowers, is: "Just a loving Valentine as cheery as can be, For one who's spent so many days and years in loving me."

The third one I want to tell you about is gayer in coloring. It came from Cleveland and has a frilly basket shaped like two hearts tied up with pink ribbons, with briar roses and forget-me-nots spilling out, and in the corner "Valentine thoughts of you." Inside are more flowers tied up with a pink bow and these lovely words: "Because your very happy way Makes every smile much brighter. Because your very cheery laugh Makes every heart much lighter. This wish for Valentine Day cheer

Is meant—so very much—It's meant to add to your own joy A brighter, lighter, touch."

Now is it any wonder I still love St. Valentine's day?

Dear me! As I have been sitting here, lost to the world, our lovely blue sky has clouded over. I have been chatting with a neighbor who dropped in, and as we sat talking I looked out, and the air all of a sudden was full of snow, blowing from the northwest and the thermometer has fallen to ten below. If Mr. Bruin is to blame for this, why didn't he have enough sense to stay in bed a while longer?

I have several starlings and a lot of sparrows seeking shelter on my cast veranda, so no doubt we are in for a stormy night. Mr. Editor wants our copy in early this week, so I won't be telling you how much more of the old bear's prophecy is coming true. Maybe I'll tell you next week! Last Sunday's storm filled up the roads and many folks were snow-bound. What will today's storm do to us?

A news broadcast from Buffalo at four o'clock said they had been given permission by the military authorities to mention the weather the first time since entering the war. He said it was between five and ten below zero then, and would fall to 30 below farther north. It is five o'clock now, and I am hoping we are not in the "farther north" belt. We'll soon know and you'll know too before you read this!

P. S. Monday morning—The weather forecast was true and I

COUNTY SEED FAIR WILL BE AT AURORA

In spite of the prevailing stormy weather, a good attendance turned out for the annual meeting of the York County Crop Improvement Association, at the office of Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn at Newmarket on Saturday. President J. H. Kellam of Nashville was in the chair and most of the affiliated organizations were represented.

The president's and secretary's reports indicated a successful year in the matter of crop tests conducted and the finances were shown to be in a healthy condition. Of the 24 exhibitors at last year's seed fair it was noted that ten were showing grain or seeds for the first time and most of them were in the money.

The 1943 county seed fair will be held in Mechanics hall, at Aurora, on Friday, March 12, and the prize lists now in the printer's hands will have only minor changes and can be had by writing to the secretary, W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket. Farmers having good commercial seed for sale should have it cleaned up right away if possible and get a government grade on it, it was advised. The association is again paying the fees for testing this seed for new exhibitors, providing the sample is submitted to the secretary for approval and an entry is made at the fair.

The new officers and board of directors are as follows: executive, president, B. S. Beer, King; vice-president, Alex. Davidson, Agincourt; secretary-treasurer, W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket; agricultural representative, agricultural society directors, Aurora, L. P. Evans, Gormley, B. S. Beer, King; Markham, Alex. Davidson, Agincourt. Maurice Hamill, Markham; Richmond Hill, H. P. Charles, Richmond Hill; S. T. Rumble, Richmond Hill; Schomberg, Thos. Blackburn, Kettleby, J. Jefferson, King; Woodbridge, Robt. Mitchell, Woodbridge, John Hostrawser, Nashville; Additional directors, Clark Young, Milliken, Frank Marritt, Keswick, Alex. Jones, Markham, J. H. Kellam, Nashville, Jas. Darlington, Todmorden; Junior Farmer Association directors, Sharon, C. Haines, Newmarket; Unionville, M. C. Macklin, Agincourt; Victoria Square, Earl Empingham, Gormley.

The new railroad superintendent was very officious in insisting that all agents report instantly any accidents that might occur in their territory.

One day he received the following dispatch: "Men fell from platform of moving engine. Further details later."

Three minutes later the wires clicked again as the new message followed through: "Everything is O. K. No one injured. Engine was going backwards."

may add that the 30 below was correct, and then some, for Newmarket at any rate.

SALVATION ARMY HAS FAMILY SUNDAY

In connection with the "Toward a better world" campaign Sunday was observed as family Sunday at the Salvation Army Citadel.

In the afternoon, Sunday-school was an open session, with the parents invited. A varied and interesting program was arranged. Mrs. J. C. Pemberton opened with prayer and the Bible was read by two young people, Leonard Kirbyson and Wm. Stewart, from Genesis 45: 16-28. Violin and guitar solos were played by Carl and Lowell Woodruff respectively.

Readings were given by Noreen Kirbyson and Zilpah Lavender. Capt. F. W. Brightwell took the lesson, which dealt with Jacob meeting Joseph in Egypt. Despite the cold a goodly number were present. Mrs. Annie Cowan closed with prayer.

Mrs. Jennings to school!

MRS. JENNINGS had been just managing to keep her family going. But things were looking brighter at last. Now with the children able to help with the housework, she had applied for the post of school teacher . . . and had been accepted.

But that meant she needed suitable clothes and clothes cost money.

She took her problem to the manager of her bank. On the strength of her ability and character, he arranged a loan of $80. And so it was that she was able to take the position and greet her first class proudly. She paid off the loan after six months at a cost in interest of only $2.40.

This is a true story. Only the name has been altered. It is typical of hundreds of human dramas in which the bank manager has been privileged to play a helping role.

War's requirements have increased immensely the work of banks and bank staffs. At the same time more than one-third of our experienced men have enlisted. Bank early. Pay small bills by cash. It helps.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL COLLECT KITCHEN FATSPlan Will Help War Effort And Also Equip Schools

The Home and School Association of Newmarket has undertaken the regular and systematic collection of fats for commercial use.

"Fats and grease are a real essential in the manufacture of glycerine, which is used in making high explosives," Mrs. H. E. Gilroy, secretary of the Home and School Association, states. Every ounce that can be spared from the home is needed for this purpose and no amount is too small to save.

"It is estimated that with every housewife saving surplus drippings systematically, Newmarket could send one-quarter ton per week. Think what this small effort on our part could do to Hitler and his gang!"

"All fats must be rendered and poured into large open tins such as one-pound coffee tins, honey pails, large vegetable tins from which the tops have been completely removed. Do not use small tins or tins with small openings, as this only adds to the labor in the factory. Any kinds of fats are acceptable and may be mixed in the tins. Even rancid grease and drippings are used."

"The only stipulation is that the fat be rendered and poured into as large containers as possible. When filled, cover with a paper and tie securely. Pupils of our public schools will call regularly to collect your contributions."

"Here, Madam Housewife, is your chance to help the war effort right in your own kitchen. Will you do your part to boost the contribution of fats from Newmarket?"

"Our children will benefit from the sale of these collections, as the proceeds are to be used in the purchase of school equipment."

Gathering the Sport Facts

Just the other day we were reading a story which was credited to Connie Mack. Mack stated in his story that the St. Louis Browns were the team to beat this year and that he was afraid the Yankees were washed up. Many baseball men would like to believe that the Yankees were washed up. For keeps. They are the richest club in baseball. For years their attendance has bordered on the million mark, while some of the other clubs have got along on two and three hundred thousand payees. Their holdings are valued at more than five million. They own three class AA minor league clubs and numerous smaller outfits.

Only the St. Louis Cardinals have a bigger farm system. But they haven't the money to support their system like the Yanks have. The Yanks own and control over 200 players and they violate every rule in baseball to hold on to them. They have the money and influence to pick and choose what men they'd like on their roster. Any man who doesn't measure up to standard is sold or traded. Buddy Rosar, perhaps the greatest catcher in the majors right now, was traded just a few weeks ago because he was too temperamental. They'll permit no problem children on their roster. They don't have to.

They've let some great players go to other clubs. Perhaps a championship club could be built around their discards. Certainly you could form the nucleus of one from Geo. McQuinn, Mike Charlat, "Buddy" Rosar, Walter Judnich, "Buddy" Blair and many others whom the Yankees have peddled to other clubs. Col. Jake Ruppert always wanted his beloved Yankees to stay on top. We don't believe in that theory. If they are through, as Connie Mack says, many great baseball men will be glad they are. According to many, they have been more of a detriment than a credit to baseball.

'Round Our Town
The three star awards for last Thursday's hockey game go to Nesbitt, Montemurro and Wheeler. This award entitles the two local stars to a pass for next week at the Strand theatre. Charlie Nesbitt, our first star, is a Bradford boy who has shown his stuff many times in the local arena. I think the last time he was here was about four years ago when Art Randall brought an intermediate club down to beat the local lads in their quest for a title. When the season was over, Sutton had beaten them both out.

Charlie is quite bald now, and he's 30 years of age, but he seems to be getting faster every year. After the game he said his wind wasn't as good as it used to be, but to our three star selector, who this week happens to be a man who coached juvenile, junior and intermediate clubs in this town many years ago, he was top man on the ice Thursday night. Charlie got three goals and one assist.

Our second star goes to "Buster" Montemurro, the long gangling boy who played goal for the Angus "Bombers." Montemurro is a North Bay product who played both junior and senior for the "Trappers." He put in a season with Larder Lake in the N.O.H.A. and for a couple of years minded the twine for Powassan in the O.H.A. intermediate B series.

Even though the weather was cold on Thursday evening "Buster" was really hot. On numerous occasions he made sensational stops to prevent the Newmarket boys from scoring. Judging from the performance he put on down here he is probably the top net-minder of the group. It certainly wasn't his fault that the score reached the 7-3 total.

Jack Wheeler, playing defence for Newmarket, got the third star, for his beautiful rushing tactics. According to our picker it's really too bad that someone doesn't follow up Wheeler on his rushes, in order to cash in on the passes which he lays right on their sticks from the right side of the net.

Honorable mention goes to Bob Bangay, Nick Bangay and Stewart of the local team. Borden Wheeler and Sills played bang-up games for Angus.

If any of our hockey fans are anxious to see an old time team in action, and also want to help a good cause, the Aid to Russia fund, they would do well to take a jaunt up to Bradford on Friday night. That is the big night when Bradford's old time 60-minute men will return to the ice lanes again. Their opponents in the game will be Sisman's Shoe Co., from the Aurora town league. Dodger Collins, Ellis Pringle, Charlie Evans and our own local Shorty Turan will return to the wars that night. Charlie Nesbitt from the local camp will put in an appearance too. Just watching these old timers go through the motions ought to be worth the price of admission alone, and it is all in aid of a good cause. Remember Friday, February 19. Bradford arena 8.15 p.m.

While we're on the subject of old-timers, how many hockey-minded residents of town remember Harvey Soules? Harvey was in town the other day. Just paying a one-day visit to see some of his old friends. In his days as a junior hockey player around town, he was one of the best.

Many of the old-timers who played with him say that he packed the hardest shot they ever saw in town. In his day he played with Charlie and Harry Thoms, Fred Murray, Doug Marshall, "Sonny" Townsley and many others. His age right now is 36.

Harvey was a great pro prospect, but a bad heart made him cut short his athletic career. He has travelled around quite a bit since he left Newmarket 18 years ago to take up residence in the States.

The past six years he's lived in California. When he came to town he wore the uniform of a first-class seaman in the U. S. navy. He was telling us that he has been stationed on a sub-chaser, which is tied up at an east-coast United States port. Having nothing to do while on a nine-day leave he decided to come up and meet his old friends in Newmarket. For a California man he sure picked a great day to come to Canada, when the mercury was hovering around the 30 below mark.

CONTEST PROVES TO BE STICKLER, ONLY ONE PUZZLER IS 100 PERCENT CORRECT

The contest editor had the puzzle fans "stumped" last week, as out of the 14 sets of answers sent in only one set was entirely correct.

MacCallum King, 18 Pearson St., Newmarket, was the sender of the correct set of answers. The other four winners were drawn from those with two wrong (there were none with only one wrong) by Ruth Smith at Campbell's book store. They are Mrs. Dorothy McCann, Newmarket, Marion Rose, Newmarket, Mrs. Dan Casey, Newmarket, and Mrs. Elias Smart, 1 Tecumseh St., Newmarket.

These winners have their choice of seeing Bing Crosby, Fred Astaire, Marjorie Reynolds and Virginia Dale in "Holiday Inn" and Macdonald Carey and Jean Phillips in "Dr. Broadway," next Tuesday, or Lionel Barrymore, Philip Dorn and Donna Reed in "Calling Dr. Gillespie" and Robt. Armstrong and Lyle Talbot in "Three Legionnaires," next Thursday. Passes may be picked up any evening at the Strand theatre.

The correct answers were: cream, patterns, apply, winter, ornaments, calendars, school, grinding, proving, ownership.

Time may heal the broken hearted. Years may make the wound less sore. But it cannot fill the longing. For the loved one gone before. Who shall say the grief is lessened. Though the smile shall hide the tears.
Memories keep the wound still open. Despite the passing of the years.
Lovingly remembered by wife and family.

Rahmer - In ever loving memory of my dear husband, Herman Rahmer, who passed away Feb. 16, 1938.

Wapshott - In loving memory of G. W. Wapshott, who passed away Feb. 19, 1940.
Broken is the family circle. Our dear one is passed away. Passed from earth and earthly darkness. Into a bright and perfect day. Friends may think we have forgotten. When at times they see us smile. But they little know the heartache. Our smiles hide all the while.

Wapshott - In loving memory of a dear husband and dad, G. W. Wapshott, who passed away Feb. 19, 1940.
Dear Will, in silent sadness. We think of the days gone by. When we were all together. No sorrow clouded our sky. But now our circle is broken. We daily miss you more. We long for that glad morning. To hold your hand as of yore. For those who say our grief has lessened. Though the smile may hide the tears.
Memory keeps the wound still open. As the days pass into years. Sadly missed by wife and son, George.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, wore a robin's egg blue crepe dress and her bouquet was of Sweetheart roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Warren, and a cousin, Miss Jean Brown, of Sutton West. WHITCHURCH
ASK PRICES BOARD FOR SPECIAL RATIONS

Deputy-Reeve Lorne Evans introduced a strong resolution before the Whitchurch township council on Saturday asking that the wartime prices and trade board would issue tea, coffee and sugar rations to rural organizations when public meals are served.

The deputy-reeve pointed out that urban dwellers held their public functions at hotels, but the rural residents could not do this, and as a result rural life in church and civic undertakings was "badly in the doldrums."

The resolution was unanimously supported by the council and Reeve George Leary, who presided.

Lance Case presented a claim for $116 for two sheep killed and damage to a flock of 10 sheep. The animals were within an enclosure, but the dog or dogs went right in and tore every sheep in the pens. J. A. Clark rushed the injured to market and quite a salvage was made. The flock was valued by Mr. Clark at $320, but the market price took care of the loss over the amount the council will compensate for. This is probably the largest single claim in over a year.

Circulars were distributed to the council setting out the issue of a township school area.

"I don't like it," said Councillor Eugene Baker, "it is just a step to handing over control to the department."

"I felt that way, too, at one time," said Deputy-Reeve Evans, "but now I see both advantages and probably some disadvantages to the idea."

Councillor Les Harper declared his disapproval of setting up a township area. No action was taken by the council, other than to air the matter briefly.

Councillors were startled when they were told by the treasurer that removal of snow since the first big storm was costing the township $75 per day.

"It means increased taxation," said Reeve Leary. Road Superintendent Widdifield said the plow or maintainers some days only cleared two and a half miles of road, and then only by the aid of 15 or 16 men and shovels. It was agreed that the situation was bad, but after hearing of the plight of other townships nearby, some consolation was felt.

Snow shovelling, plowing and supplies were ordered paid, totalling about $1,000.

Relief accounts totalled $125, and general accounts were small.

Those present were Reeve Leary, Deputy-Reeve Evans and Councillors Ed. Logan, Les. J. Harper and Eugene Baker.

Schools Secretary Marks
96 Years, Was once Teacher

Alfred Love, Aurora's oldest male resident, celebrated his 96th birthday at his residence yesterday. While not in good health, he still remains one of the oldest public officials in Canada, although his daughter, Miss Lois Love, looks after most of the business details.

This year, after nearly 50 years of service, he relinquished the secretary-treasurership of the Aurora cemetery board to his daughter. Since 1916 he has been secretary-treasurer of the public and high school boards.

Mr. Love was born at Temperanceville, and at the age of 19 became a school teacher at Glenora. Over 60 years ago he came to Aurora to become bookkeeper for J. Fleury and Son, afterwards travelling, and then entering the insurance and conveyancing field following his appointment as justice of the peace.

For many years he performed the duties of a police magistrate. His wife died in 1928.

Present yesterday besides Miss Lois was Mrs. F. D. Thorndike, a daughter, while a telegram of birthday greetings came from Frank Love of Winnipeg. Mr. Love is a member of Aurora United church and Rising Sun Masonic lodge.

FIREMAN ANSWERS
CALL TO OWN HOME

Shortly after 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon the Aurora fire brigade had the second fire call of the "New Year" as they were summoned to battle with a cankerous fire in a four-family frame dwelling at the corner of Centre and Wells Sts.

The building, one of the oldest of the district, took fire in the over partitions, either from an overheated stove in the centre apartment of Cpl. and Mrs. Alex. Jones or from defective wiring, and while the actual fire only did a few hundred dollars worth of damage, the ensuing smoke and water seeped through to all the other apartments, causing considerable damage and forcing the families to seek temporary shelter elsewhere.

The fire was stubborn and the brigade were chilled to the bone with ice caking on their rubber coats in close to zero weather. The fire was discovered by Joseph "Tehell" who sounded the alarm, and neighbors and passers-by soon emptied the houses of furniture. A large amount of water was provided by relatives and friends.

Cpl. Jones, in whose apartment the fire broke out, is stationed at Camp Borden and Mrs. Jones was a week-end visitor.

The building is owned by Major Lindsay Robinson, of the U.S. army air corps, a former Aurora resident.

O. C. COMMENDS WORK
OF DISTRICT MILITIA

"I am well pleased with the work C company is doing—you are carrying on despite bad winter weather and gas rationing and deserve credit," Lieut.-Col. J. H. Bennett, V.D., officer commanding the 2nd battalion, Queen's York Rangers, told the men following an inspection of the Aurora armory and the company last Thursday.

"You can be proud of your record, over 120 men have joined the active army from this North York company and many more of you will do so. Some of you cannot go, but you are doing your country a real service here. I want each man to try and persuade his friends or fellow workers to join the reserve army. There are a great many men who have time to train if they would only realize the advantages to themselves and Canada. Keep up your good work."

Col. Bennett was accompanied by Capt. William Hunt, battalion training officer, and saw the North York boys at work on the Reising gun, bayonet and training sticks, rifle drill and elementary rifle tests.

Capt. Earl Bales and the company were congratulated on the improvements made to the mess rooms and Col. Bennett announced that the men's lecture room would be entirely renovated and made comfortable. There were nearly 60 men on parade, thought to be excellent considering road conditions, which kept these from the more distant parts away. One member of the company hitch-hiked from Holland Landing.

ACES SUFFER FIRST
DEFEAT TO KING, 5-4

Minus their regular goalie, but otherwise at full strength, Middlebrook's Aces suffered their first defeat of the season at Aurora arena last Thursday evening as the rugged King farmers put on a garrison finish to eke out a 5-4 win.

King turned up late and were allowed to borrow a few players, while "Mouse" MacMain of Sims' team went to the Aces' cage. In the first period the King boys lost their defence star, "Andy" Lloyd, or likely the entire season, as he all heavily after a skirmish and injured his shoulder, which will require an x-ray to determine the extent of the damage. Frost and Sherry tallied for King and Myle MacMain for Aces in the first period. It was all Aces in the middle chapter as Legge (2) and MacMain blasted shots past Saigle.

Entering the final frame it looked all over for the farm boys, but they were overconfident and with Aces overconfident they warmed around MacMain like bers at a hive. Shropshire made it 4-3, and then came the break of the game. "Josh" Preston, who had played an all-star game, tripped Shropshire as he was in the clear and Referee Tommy Meyers awarded a major penalty shot. Big Leon, took aim and just beat MacMain for the equalizer. Two minutes later "Tarzan" Archibald picked up a rebound and scored the winning tally.

There were still 10 minutes to go but the eager Aces could do nothing right and when they were close either fanned or were robbed by Saigle. Gunn and Shropshire just about came to blows. In fact both fanned the air but missed each other.

The win left King a chance to tie for the league leadership by beating Simsen's. Not a man on either team turned in a poor effort, and in two games the two teams have scored the same number of goals.

Clinic Can Handle But Half
Number Who Offer Blood

Aurora responded nobly to the call for blood donors made by the Aurora Red Cross and when the mobile blood clinic, under the direction of Mrs. S. J. Cooper, came to town on Tuesday afternoon there were 130 volunteers awaiting the call to donate the precious blood plasma.

The clinic, held in the Aurora United church, had six booths commenced at 4 p.m. and lasted four hours. Owing to the fact that insufficient containers were brought and no more persons could be handled as a result, only 67 of the volunteers were called upon for donations.

The rest will be accommodated at another clinic to be held in about six weeks time. Dr. E. J. Henderson, president of the Aurora

Red Cross, told The Era and Express, "We are well pleased with results and only sorry all those who offered to donate could not be accommodated. They will be called upon at a later date, however. We intend to hold the next clinic from 9 to 12 in the morning, as it is a more satisfactory hour."

"There wasn't a single complaint from a donor, and it was all painless," he said. Assisting at the clinic were Drs. G. W. Williams, C. J. Devins, J. L. Urquhart and Crawford Rose, while registered nurses attending included Mrs. Frank Barnes, Mrs. Andrew Rose, Mrs. Delroy Babcock, Mrs. J. P. Crysdale, Mrs. William Milgate, Mrs. W. Lambie, Mrs. M. Caldwell and Mrs. J. Hyde of Toronto.

Town League Winners Will Enter Intermediate O.H.A.

Final plans for the Aurora Intermediate O.H.A. entry were made at an executive meeting of the Aurora town hockey league on Monday evening.

To enable the league to declare a winner and pick a club for the O.H.A. series, sudden-death games for both the semi-finals and final rounds were ordered as follows: Thursday, Feb. 18, Simsen's vs. Aces and King vs. Ordnance; Monday, Feb. 22, winners of the above two matches to meet.

The league, which has enjoyed a successful season, will close on Monday.

Highway Traffic Officer Alex. Ferguson, former member of the Syracuse professional team, was named as coach of the O.H.A. team. He will be assisted by the playing captain, Harvey Gibney, last year a member of the championship Sutton Greenshirts. Hill Holloway was named as manager of the club, while the league executive will look after all arrangements. It is expected that the winners of the South Ontario league will be the first opponents in the O.H.A. playdowns.

On Monday at 7 p.m., prior to the league final, the team will hold its first practice and 21 players are on the try-out list. Next week a game will also be played against a top ranking mercantile team from Toronto.

OBJECTS TO CLOSING OF TWO BRANCH BANKS

"I have not been able to obtain satisfactory replies either from the banks involved, from the oil control, or the wartime prices board and am carrying the matter further," Deputy-Reeve Lorne Goodfellow of King town ship told The Era and Express in referring to the closing of the banks at Nobleton and Kleinburg.

"I intend to see what Ottawa will do about the closing of the bank branches. It is ridiculous to ask people to drive their cars either to Schomberg or Woodbridge, using up gasoline, tires and valuable time, when a single bank could carry the staffs of either bank one day a week to Nobleton and Kleinburg. Neither Woodbridge or Schomberg would suffer by having their branch closed one day a week."

Last month the Royal bank branch at Kleinburg, operated from Woodbridge, and the Imperial branch at Nobleton, operated from Schomberg, were closed and since then the residents of those two centres have either had to drive over icy roads to Woodbridge or Schomberg or keep their money at home with all the attendant risks. As soon as the announced plans were made by Goodfellow, who resides at Nobleton, took up the cudgels for the depositors and customers of both centres.

"If I can't get some results from Ottawa I will try and get the township council to get behind me," he said.

JUNIOR BASKETEERS
TAKE NORTHERN TITLE

Aurora high school junior basketball team rang up their fifth straight win of the season to annex the North York Interscholastic junior title by defeating St. Andrew's college juniors in the local gymnasium on Monday, Feb. 12.

The Aurora schoolboys started the game minus three of their regular players, Bill Williams, Gar. Doolittle and Bill Devins, all out through sickness, but except for the early part of the game, they were always in command.

In five games the Aurora juniors have scored a total of 196 points, as against 60 for the opposition, one of the best records in many years. Charlie Williams, Bill Babcock and Pratt of S.A.C. were the stars of the game. Jimmy

DOWN THE CENTRE

Vic. Cobourn will be remembered by the North York sports fans of a few years back as the battling Markham junior who invariably took time out against either Aurora or Newmarket juniors to exchange a few wild swings with his friendly enemy, Gordy Bone.

We remember four consecutive games when these two lads served up helpings of modified mayhem and wound up with major penalties each time. Well, Cobourn is still battling and still playing hockey too. This time he's ready to do his scrapping against the Nazis as a member of the Engineers overseas, and last week he helped his fellow sappers obtain the divisional army honors and the right to proceed into the overseas hockey semi-finals against artillery, army, medical and others. He scored two goals, too.

Battling on the ice was, aside from goal-scoring, one of "Joint" McComb's better known traits, and, while he is currently the leading goal-scorer in the West Toronto league, he has not neglected fisticuffs either. In December he clashed with Referee Holmes, then he and "Casey" Bradshaw put on a sparring show that had the fans out of their seats. Next he caused a near riot by clashing with George Grigor, the Greek lad, who played with Marlboroughs, but last Saturday night he met up with old Mr. Fireworks himself in the person of slugging Phil Vitale, ex-Newmarket captain, stalwart, and the welkin really rang for the most excitement of the entire season. Yes, McComb is the firebrand of the league in more ways than one, and some drastic action may be meted out shortly by league officials.

Speaking about Phil Vitale recalls that he is on active service with the Queen's York Rangers, and the Yorks have a team entered in the Niagara Falls city league, which will send a winner into the intermediate O.H.A. playdowns. There have been six teams playing with four teams to go in the play-offs, and the active Yorks finished in the fourth spot.

Ken Brown, former Aurora junior and Schomberg player, is a member of the county battalion team along with Vitale and Seabrook, who played for Owen Sound juniors against Aurora Tigers. The rest we know little about, but the Yorks line-up is as follows: goal, Hoare; defence, Vitale and Misener; centre, Brown; wings, Ross, Seabrook; subs, Beuteaux, Dennison, Blue, Booth and Greenwood. "Push on, brave York Volunteers."

New pastures, plus one or two new players have given Lieut. "Bing" Caswell's Brampton camp boys a new lease on life, and last week they twice won over Midland Shipbuilders. A win over Angus Bombers will clinch a play-off spot.

Georgetown presented a different picture from Aurora. There the perennial mayor, Joe Gibbons, was on hand to face the puck and welcome the boys. Six hundred fans, including army personnel, were on hand to root home the boys from No. 24 B.T.C., and everybody was happy. Most of all, the two wins were a big thrill to Mr. Caswell, whose home is Midland itself. The score in Georgetown was 9-6, and while we haven't the Midland score before us, Billy Hewitt told us first hand that Brampton had won right in the Shipbuilders backyard. The wins left the boat boys next thing to on the rocks.

Joe Innerelli, who hails from South Porcupine and was a star up north, has been added to the Brampton line-up and provides plenty of punch. Teddy Lister, formerly of Native Sons and Marlboroughs, is another Brampton "find" and he got two goals and one assist in his first start.

Lent, who, we believe, is a Brampton product, has been also added to the team. Bill Harris has been teamed up with the two newcomers, while Frankie Moroz is working with Joe Szabo and Don Campbell. The return to power of the Brampton team complicates the final possibilities of the group play-offs and final standing no end, and all the games this week are vitally important to all except Newmarket Redmen, who are hoping to meet up with a strong senior mercantile team in an exhibition eye-opener, since Toronto to Navy are in the throes of a death struggle with Hamilton.

Dick Hunter, the stocky, curly-haired Bradford boy, who played junior with Aurora Jack in 1935-36, has turned out with Midland on defence. Dick played up north, then went to Hamilton for senior B, and last year was billed to play with Toledo until sent back at the border. He wound up with Graveshurst Indians last year and turned in a fine effort.

Hunter takes the place of youthful huck "Buck" Abbott, who has had a change of heart in a week and decided to desert Midland and play for Penetang Rangers in junior company. Abbott's "on again, off again" act didn't help the Midland team any. Guess Buck figured the boys from ex-president Dudley's metropolis weren't going any place in particular and that home pastures looked greener. Penetang, incidentally, have a strong team and should go a long way this season. Last year their juvenile team went to the provincial finals.

Sutton youngsters put up a grand fight against Barrie even if they lost the round 11-1. Barrie is a bit too big a centre to be matched against the Lake Simcoe village and we believe that the juvenile series will have to adopt a C rating, as there was in junior until this year, to give the smaller places a break.

Noted that Harry Lumley played goal for Barrie team. Which only goes to strengthen our argument. Lumley is undoubtedly of juvenile age, but last year he guarded the nets for Owen Sound intermediates, who went through and defeated Markham Flyers in the B finals. He was only 15 then, but a regular puck wizard, and you can imagine what he must look like in juvenile company. This year Barrie Colton imported him for their junior A hockey team and, since they haven't started to play yet, he finds time to play juvenile. By some strange quirk too, according to juvenile rules, you can play both junior O.H.A. and juvenile the same year, provided you're young enough. You can see the cards were stacked a bit too much for Sutton. This question of hockey importing goes as far down as juvenile age, and we know that three of the Sutton kids could have gone to Orillia to play juvenile this winter.

Bred 'em young must be the motto at Owen Sound, for no sooner had the Orphans lost Lumley this year to Barrie than they turned up with another youngster by the name of Henry in the nets, and he's younger than Lumley. They haven't noticed the difference either, and we can't recall any time when kids so good could be picked up so easily. Answer to the thing is that at Owen Sound four mornings a week the kids get to the arena for hockey practice under Bill Garbutt at 7 or 7.30 a.m. Down in these parts mothers are lucky to get junior up at 8.30 for a hot breakfast. Must be the climate, or something, but it does get results. Youngest goalie ever to hit the headlines, of course, is Bell, the sensational Buffalo Blis sons netminder, who played in the Memorial Cup finals last year and could still play juvenile hockey this year.

Billy Mundell of Aurora, one of the best of the present-day crop of Aurora kids, has branched out this year and besides playing for the public school is one of the stars of the Richmond Hill minor midget club in the T.H.L. He will be one of the best in the game in the not too distant future or we miss our guess. We know he sleeps and eats hockey as do most of the big names in hockey today. There are a lot of smart kids in Aurora and Newmarket today if they only got the proper handling. Funny how a chap often has to go away from home to make good in the world of sport.

Take the case of Reg Westbrooke, goalie for Army Daggers. Westbrooke hails from Collingwood and last year was under study to Beatty, and played very little. He turned up with the army team this year and beat out such stalwarts as Sgt. Herbie Mortimer of Marlboroughs and Cornwall, "Bing" Caswell and Bobby Lynn and is doing a fairly good job too.

Charlie Nesbitt of Newmarket camp is another fellow who is coming into his own this year. A Bradford boy, he played for his home town teams and was only regarded as a second stringer until two years ago in rural hockey, and when we heard Jack McDonald was teaming him up with those two knights of the goal crease, Lord Robert and Sir Nicholas Bangay, we thought we weren't hearing right. But "Chuck" has really blossomed out this time, and has been one of the main cogs in the Newmarket Redmen's drive to the top of the local intermediate heap. He is, of course, probably in better shape than at any time in his career, and is performing with players who have more experience than he has, and two swell playmakers for line-mates, but just the same he has done a fine job, and when old man flur sent the Bangay boys to hospital he was as potent around the nets as in other games. Our tabulation, which we think is accurate, places him as one of the leading scorers of the whole Newmarket team with no less than 19 points to his credit, 19 goals and 11 assists. He may have 10 points too, nine counters and ten assists. "Nick" is in third place with four goals and eight points.

Fourth place with actually with 12 points has been one of the best men on the team, and he's a good assist.

Bill McDonald, the team captain, is a good assist.

Bill McDonald, the team captain, is a good assist.

whispers that if he isn't there already he's due to appear very shortly at Newmarket camp. Sandell is a fine prospect and this year was a dangerous sharpshooter. He would be a handy man to have around but just where he would fit in on the team at this stage is hard to figure. However, an ace in the hole is mighty nice to pluck out of thin air and if Sandell lands at Newmarket Jack McDonald's grin will be ever wide than it is right now. Barrie Colton unsuccessfully sought Sandell for junior A this year, and Penetang were after him too, but the army got there first.

Bill McDonald of Midland has been doing some fine refereeing this year at Orillia and Midland. It is the same "old Bill" who for years was one of Canada's outstanding lacrosse netminders for St. Simon's, Midland's, Orillia and many other clubs, and beloved by both team-mates and opponents. Bill must be well past the 50 mark but gets around as well as ever. He has always been in good physical condition and led the quiet, simple life.

Ron Hewitt, who relieved Alex Ferguson on the Yonge St. patio during his illness some months ago, was a member of the Orillia police team which played in those charity matches at Orillia and Barrie. Ronnie, however, can't match Fergy either on the beat or on the ice. Alex, incidentally, didn't play at Orillia last Friday because of a cold.

New ruling this year prevents a player in the local interscholastic basketball series from playing both junior and senior in the same season. Those who start as juniors must finish the season in minor company. In other years Aurora has been able to bolster its senior team with reinforcements from the juniors. Aurora juniors this year could whip either A.H.S. seniors or Pickering seniors, and certainly if the old rule was in effect the Aurora school could count two titles in the sack. No other school but Aurora is affected by the ruling and in the past Aurora is the only one the old rule really benefited. Howard Hamilton, former Newmarket junior has been transferred to Fingal by the R.C.A.F. and has already appeared in the line-up as a sub for the Bombers, who have another great hockey team in hand. Hamilton was a dandy prospect as he left junior ranks but unfortunately didn't do much playing after that date.

King City gets the salute of the week! They finally ended Aces' unbeaten record and bid fair to go on and capture another title.

"Nibs" Saigle, on leave until spring from the merchant marine, is in the twine cage for the farmers and doing a pretty fair chore. He has had little actual experience but is holding up well.

Ross Follitt, member of Aurora juniors when they won the junior C title and of last year's championship squad, is going as good as ever. Cleary and a 60 minute man, fast and utterly unselfish.

Rav. Lloyd, another sturdy blue-line bumper. Goes like a bullet and fears nothing. Probably out for the season as a result of a shoulder injury sustained last week.

Leon Shropshire, tireless, durable centre. A regular demon workhorse and vastly underrated in other years. The league's leading scorer.

Don Palmer, big husky Maple smoothie, and a snarl forward out with a cold in recent games but will be back. Plays senior commercial in Toronto.

Bill Hood, former Markham junior, and another T.H.L. performer. Has not been on hand for most games because of war working hours.

Ritchie Sayers, sweet centre star and dangerous on goal. Hails from Richmond Hill and like Hood has not been able to play too many games.

"Huck" Young, giant Hill soft ball outfielder and a fair defence man. Hands out a good body check, and is steady as a rock.

Angus McArthur, village bread-driver. Bucks snow all day but plays a fair game of hockey at night on the wing.

Neil McArthur, another villager and brother of Angus. Not a star but capable of doing a good checking job.

Trevor Graham of Schomberg, just returned to the fold and still the same old "Shorty." A puck hawk and pestiferous checker. At one time or other has had nearly every bone in his body broken, and while not Al for the army is Al on the ice. A former Aurora junior.

Tarzan Archibald, a durable performer who tries all the time and is becoming more dangerous as he gets into shape. Can hold his own in the rough and tumble.

"Jee" Mabey of Richmond Hill. Bee, honorably discharged from the army, is a Hill product and a brother of Norm Mabey. Had a whirl with Sutton Greenshirts last winter but failed to stick. Bound to improve, and knows the game.

Harold Botham, acquired by release from Aces. No star but a good faithful performer, ready to play or sit on the bench.

Bob Walker, a high school lad who shows a good deal of promise, and while out of his company is game and turns in a useful performance.

Garnet Pattenden of Vindorf, sub goalie for the squad. Turned in a good game in his only start.

Dave Stewart of the Hill. Played only one game so far but capable of some good hockey. Has a fair amount of experience and will be useful in the play-offs.

Cecil Walker, manager, trainer and chief rooter. Assisted Bob Moodie last year when the team went through to a rural title.

Cliff Follitt, father of Ross and Howard, now overseas. Mr. Follitt is always on hand to encourage the boys and lend a few words of wisdom.

Aurora intermediates have been warned for action by secretary W. A. Hewitt and will likely enter the first round of the play offs around Feb. 25. Likely opposition, according to all we can learn, is the winner of the South Ontario league, a six-team circuit from around Oshawa and Whitby, playing about the same calibre as the local boys. Teams drawing byes in the O.H.A. are rightly being sent into action first while other groups play off. There are no less than 13 town leagues or single entries in the intermediate series this year who will thus be dealt with. Only five intermediate groups are playing a regular schedule of games this winter.

No divisions are in the intermediate series this winter. Included in the whole shebang are senior B, intermediate A and intermediate B, with only one title at stake. Peterboro military camp, last year's senior B winners, and Owen Sound, the intermediate B winners, are both strongly in the running again this winter.

Harvey Gibney is to coach the Aurora entry, which was picked and got down to action this week. Harvey should do a good job, and if the goal-tending stands up might go further than expected. Boys expect to have a couple of exhibition games before the play offs start. Boys will wear either King or Ordnance sweaters.

Squadron Leader Chadburn, in addition to his many other honors, has a hockey team named after him in the south of England R.C.A.F. hockey league, and the "Chadburns" as they are called, are heading the league. We didn't get the news from Lloyd either, but direct from overseas. In the air or on the ice the "Chadburns" are hot stuff.

Lou Georgas, cousin of Newmarket's Alex. Georgas and a skier of note, is in the army now and is a corporal. At Camp Borden he is doing a man-size job as chief ski instructor for the troops and has the boys performing near miracles now. His boys were in white to put on a good show for comedian Jack Benny and Mary Livingstone when they visited Borden on Saturday last. The boys are really keen about the sport which has become a serious part of their training and Cpl. Georgas, despite icy weather and dangerous conditions, has had most of the boys go through the rigorous training without any serious injury.

The mumps put a crimp into the plans of "Edger" Collings and the Bradford Lions club. A few weeks ago the Lions at Bradford decided to sponsor a midget hockey league, supplying as much equipment as possible, and doing something even better in true Lion fashion—agreeing to meet the expenses of injuries incurred by the lads so far as the club's finances would stretch. Things were just getting into stride when the mumps hit the village youngsters, and when Edger called the first practice only eight youngsters were able to attend. With ice uncertain beyond this month the whole plan had to be abandoned. Next season, however, it will be different, with the rink now municipally owned.

Joe Evans, in his day a good lacrosse and hockey player, and brother of Charlie and Max, both well known Bradford and Varsity athletes, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the U. of T. C.O.T.C. Max, now a lieutenant-colonel in the army, has recently returned from overseas.

"Blondie" Rawlings joined the R.C.A.F. last week, and the former King and Aurora high school athlete is now stationed at Toronto.

Charlie Case will hardly be available for any further hockey in Aurora this winter, as he has been transferred from the Ordnance depot temporarily for castle training. He will be back in time for softball this year, and Depot will definitely have a team on the line to meet all comers.

Then there's the ancient legend of the two pipe smokers in the opium den.

One dreamy gent said casually: "I've just decided to buy all the diamonds and emerald mines in the world."

The party of the second part considered this seriously for a few moments, and then murmured softly: "I don't know that I care to sell."

NEW
Gasoline Rationing Plan Goes into Effect
APRIL FIRST

ON MARCH 31 the present gasoline ration licenses and coupons will expire, and no gasoline will be sold except upon the presentation of a 1943-1944 ration book.

In his own interests, every vehicle owner is asked to apply at once for a new gasoline license and ration coupon book for each of his vehicles.

Under the new system, effective April 1, all commercial vehicles will be rationed. All non-commercial vehicles will be granted a basic "AA" gasoline license and ration coupon book, containing 40 coupons for a passenger car, or 16 for a motorcycle. Owners of non-commercial vehicles eligible for a special category, who can prove their need, will be granted an extra vocational allowance, fixed in advance for the year ending March 31, 1944.

The extra allowance for a special category car will be tailored to meet individual needs. In determining this allowance the previous category and mileage of the car will not be considered. Instead the vocational allowance will be based on two factors: (1) The gravity of the oil shortage with which Canada is faced, and (2) the importance of the vehicle to its owner in a country at war.

The extra vocational coupons will be issued in books labelled "Special", and each such book will contain not more than 60 coupons. Only one "Special" book, or portion of such book, will be issued at a time, and hence the case history of each special category applicant will be under constant review.

Under provisions of the rationing order, the Oil Controller will have the right to refuse any application for a special category, or to suspend any ration book for an infraction of the regulations.

Every motor vehicle, other than a motorcycle, must bear on its windshield a sticker indicating its category. After April 1, service station attendants will not be permitted to serve gasoline to a car which does not bear the sticker which corresponds to the ration book submitted at the time of the purchase.

To obtain a gasoline license and ration coupon book, secure an application form at your nearest Post Office. Study the form and follow the instructions contained therein.

When you receive your ration coupon book, guard it carefully. It may not be replaced if, because of your negligence, it is lost or stolen. Do not leave it in your car; keep it on your person at all times.

Keswick Underwriter's
Company Stands High

Elsewhere in this issue appears an advertisement showing some of the preliminary figures from the 51st annual statement of the Great-West Life Assurance Company, published by Ryan Switzer, Keswick, representative of the company.

The company has just completed a satisfactory year. New business placed amounted to $78,910,662, total insurance in force reached $698,010,493, assets now amount to $189,297,807. The large total of $15,178,088 was paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries during the year. Of this,
$4,854,837 was paid to beneficiaries of deceased policyholders, while $10,323,251 went to living policyholders, money used to keep homes together, to educate children, to allow older persons to retire without financial worry.

Despite the fact that one-quarter of all its male employees have entered the armed services, the company has carried on all its essential services to policyholders.

STORE WINDOW BREAKS
AS MERCURY SINKS

The February meeting of the Women's Institute was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. G. W. E. Macpherson. Mrs. Macpherson gave a talk and made a strong appeal for the home nursing reserve course.

Arrangements were made for the short course in re-modelling clothes, which will be given in March. In place of the regular banquet held each year a supper will be held this year and the proceeds will go to the merchant marine.

The war up-to-date was discussed by Mrs. Macpherson, and Mrs. Allan Hopkins gave a talk on health education. She told the members never to use soda in cooking vegetables and not to buy canned soups, to make their own.

There are still members who have not handed in their donation to the yarn fund and it is hoped that they will do so soon. Sixteen pairs of socks have been given to boys who have recently gone in the service and there is still yarn for knitting.

Miss Mildred Dike, who has a position in connection with the old age pension board in Ontario and York county, spent the weekend at home.

Sunday was one of the coldest days this winter, 15 below zero and a north wind blowing. Very few ventured out and those who did had frozen cheeks, noses and ears. Monday morning, while the wind had gone down, the thermometers had, too, as it was 38 below. Frost was heard cracking all over the buildings and a plate glass window was cracked in Steeper's store. The month of February is certainly keeping up the record of being worse weather than January, as some people predicted.

It is hoped that the weather will be better by Friday, Feb. 26, for the United church school annual supper and at home. It will be a pot luck supper.

POLICE COURT
Fight Without Reason
So Far As Court Can Find

"This is the silliest thing I've ever heard of, two men, your ages meeting at a store and hitting each other without any apparent provocation," Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe told Percy Pollock and Ross Glover, both of Ravenshoe, when he bound each of them in the sum of $50 to keep the peace for one year, in York county police court held here on Tuesday.

Mr. Pollock, who told his worship that he was 61 years of age, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting 30-year-old Mr. Glover on Feb. 4.

Mr. Glover, who laid the complaint, testified that his was the first farm north of Ravenshoe and that the defendant was a neighbor living three-quarters of a mile away. He said that at about 7.20 p.m. of the day in question he had been in Hamilton's store at Ravenshoe purchasing a newspaper.

"Mr. Pollock came into the store and stood there without saying a word," stated the complainant. "He left the store and I left about ten minutes after him. As I was walking down the steps I saw him coming towards me. I thought that he was going back into the store. He came up to me and hit me in the face and on the forehead with his fists. He jumped on me and there was a scuffle."

"Did you hit him?" asked Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C. "No sir," replied the witness.

"He hit me on the back of the neck and it was sore for three or four days."

Asked if, while in the store or outside, he had given the defendant any reason for hitting him, Mr. Glover replied that he had not had any words with the defendant.

"What condition was he in?" asked the crown.

"As far as I could see he was sober," was the reply.

In his defence, Mr. Pollock told his worship that he had been talking to a friend outside the store when Mr. Glover came out. He said that the latter struck him "in the ribs." He denied that there had been any scuffle or that he hit the complainant on the back of the head four times.

"What caused the fight in this case?" asked his worship. "Were you speaking to each other in the store?" Mr. Pollock denied that they had been speaking to each other.

"Don't you think it is childish for two men to fight like strange cats and dogs when they meet?" commented his worship. "He says that you hit him without the slightest provocation and you say that he hit you without the slightest provocation."

His worship allowed them their own property bail.

Of 40 skiers charged with parking their cars in front of the Summit Ski club on Yonge St. on Jan. 24 and obstructing traffic, Magistrate Woodliffe fined 34 and costs of $1. Eight cases were adjourned for personal service and one case was dismissed.

The case of Emerson and Emery Wardell, Georgina township, who are jointly charged with illegal use of gasoline, was again adjourned for one week.

TELLS HOW JAPANESE
STOP LENGTHY SPEAKERS

"A great many bad things have come out of Japan, but I think you will agree with me that we might well copy the Japanese custom of having 'after-dinner' speakers speak before dinner," suggested Rev. G. H. Johnson of St. Paul's Anglican church as he was about to give an address at the Lions club on Monday evening.

Mr. Johnson suggested two advantages: first, it would relieve the nervous tension of the speaker during his meal; second, it would limit the length of addresses, which would end promptly when the gong rang for dinner.

WOULD LIKE TO MEET
SENDER OF DITTY BAG

P.O. J. Cooney-Levey, Halifax, N.S., has written the following letter of appreciation for a Navy League ditty bag to Mrs. W. Robertson, Mount Albert.

"Many thanks for the ditty bag which I received today, for I am indeed very grateful to receive it. I am sure you will be thinking that the sailor who received it was not going to write in acknowledgment but it happens in many cases that the man does not receive it until long after Christmas and the pleasure is none the less great because of that."

"Do you know I personally think the people back home are wonderful for the way they are looking up the boys, and you can rest assured that they are really proud to know that you are doing it."

"Well it is really very difficult to write down on paper just how one really feels, but at least I have tried. I wish I could shake your hand and thank you personally. Perhaps some day I may be granted that pleasure."

M. O. Thinks Wisfully
Of Newmarket, Canada

"Yesterday I received a grand parcel with an enclosed card stating that I was not forgotten by the members of 'Trinity United Church, Newmarket, Ont., Canada,'" states a letter dated Nov. 21, 1942, addressed to Rev. Henry Cotton, from Capt. Gordon Cock. "Pardon me for including the whole address, but I love every word of it. On reflection, it is rather astonishing how to an exile that address is increasingly inspiring as you read from left to right."

"The same day, your letter arrived and as I was at a loss just to whom I should tender my thanks, it occurred to me—being naturally lazy—that I could ask you to do that for me. So, if you would be so kind, would you please convey my heartiest thanks to the generous donors?"

"The contents of the parcel—I may add—are rapidly going the 'way of all flesh.' During my first six months over here a minor item of approximately 35 pounds vanished from waist-line, chin, etc., but through the lavish consideration of folks at home I regret to inform you I no longer have a sylph-like figure."

"It was very kind of you to write to me and I assure you I appreciate the sentiment you expressed—with one minor exception. You included birthday greetings and I must confess that I have at last reached that age when I'm not so sure I welcome the reminder. Certainly, I'm one of the veterans from the point of age in the 5th Canadian division. It does not seem so long ago that on answering my doorbell the arrival would inquire, 'Is your father in?'—much to the mortification of a fully qualified, aspiring young physician."

"Shortly we will be celebrating our second Christmas over here. It's just a year since we landed in Liverpool on a dirty gray wet morning, that only someone familiar with this side can fully appreciate. We had been anchored out in the Mersey for 36 hours waiting for dock space and even the climate couldn't dampen our enthusiasm at getting ashore. And for what? For 12 months we have trained. For 12 months we have groused. For 12 months we've lived in hope. Only to see the Americans get in action ahead of us. However, I don't believe anyone doubts our chance will come."

"We arrived in a sort of doldrum stage. The great blitz was over and throughout our stay we have seen practically nothing of Jerry. It is true sporadic raiders are seen and that minor raids have taken place in our neighborhood, but on the whole there is almost as great a feeling of security here as there is at the corner of Main and Park Sts."

"Still it has not been exactly dull. There has been lots to see and the occasional thrill. Certainly I couldn't ask for anything more inspiring than the flights of Spitfires that flew overhead for hours on end during the memorable Dieppe raid."

"Twelve months does not seem as long as the second Christmas. The latter makes me feel like an old sweat, although we frequently are advised to change that notion. For example, our new padre has transferred from first division unit. He came over in the fall of '39. Recently he visited his old regiment wearing fifth division patches. As he walked into the mess one of the officers, noting the maroon on his coat sleeves, greeted him with, 'Hello Padre—did you bring any mail over with you?'"

"I really must run, but again let me thank you for thinking of me and let me wish you and the congregation of 'Trinity United Church, Newmarket, Ont., Canada,' the heartiest Christmas and New Year's greetings. Sometimes in reading of our successes in North Africa, I begin to wonder whether there isn't a remote chance that Christmas in 1943 will find me at home again but in much more rational moments I'm afraid that is being too optimistic."

"I'll be thinking of you all on Dec. 25. We have a rather elaborate—for here—dinner planned that will be an exhilarating occasion. But I can assure you that we will all be simply putting on an act and the gaiety will be forced as certainly there is no day in the year that you feel so completely lost away from home."

SPEND LESS AT HOME

Deputy-Reeve Lorne B. Good-fellow of King township and Deputy-Reeve Charles E. Sparks of Aurora, commissioners of the York County House of Refuge, reported to York county council expenditures at the home of $10,416 last year, $3,484 below the budget.

There were 74 inmates at the home at the end of the year, 64 men and 20 women. Sixteen inmates were admitted last year, seven died and 12 were discharged.

SHE WAS ONLY APPLICANT

Miss Margaret Davey has been appointed assessor for the village of Bradford. When the 1943 assessor resigned and the council advertised for applicants, Miss Davey's name was the only one submitted. The village has an assessment of nearly $500,000 and there are over 600 assessments.

One Of Sharon Silver
Horns Comes To Light

When David Willson was building the temple and other institutions at Sharon over a century ago his famous silver Temple band was the musical sensation of Upper Canada.

He not only had the first pipe organ built at Sharon but he also established a fine band that assisted at the Temple services, feasts and other events. His bandsmen, in some cases, were sent to Poughkeepsie, New York, to take instruction in band music.

Most of the old instruments have been lost but it was fortunate that, this month, a solid silver alto horn, purchased for the band in Poughkeepsie, has been discovered and the custodian, George Doan Johnston, of Humber Bay, has donated it to the Temple collection.

The grandfather of the donor, Jesse Doan, was the leader of the band at one time. His son, Jesse, Jr., also played the horn. In appreciation of his generous donation Mr. Johnston has been made an honorary life member of the York Pioneers and Historical Society, and the instrument will be publicly presented at the annual meeting in June.

J. M. Walton, who has been diligent in collecting Willsonian relics, secured this contribution. Show cases for the safer custody of many of the smaller pieces of the Temple collection have been placed in position recently.

Any person who has relics of David Willson or the Temple should donate them to the Temple, so that they will be preserved, and J. M. Walton will be glad to hear from them. Recently many valuable books, manuscripts and other data have been collected. The real history of David Willson and the Temple is yet to be written.
